

Two-point perspective is used for objects that are rotated or seen from the side.