

1.2.2 Vocabulary

Abstract Expressionism	An artistic movement started in the 1940s in which art is not based on the depiction of reality. Art may be partially or totally abstract, depending on the level of departure from reality.
nonrepresentational	Not realistic; not representing or depicting objects observed in nature.